

Kumbo is the chief-town of the Nso people, and the administrative headquarter of Bui division in the North-West region of Cameroon. Its inhabitants are well-known for their hospitality, their strong attachment to traditional values and their rich ancestral culture. This is also a very religious people. Many different faith cohabit peacefully there (Catholics, Protestants, Muslims, Animists), people of any religion sharing the same respect for local traditions. So enjoy this endearing town, its cultural richness as well as the magnificence of its landscapes.

What can you see and do in Kumbo ?

- Mus'Art Gallery

This dynamic museum gathers sculptures and other works of art made by local artists and craftsmen. Temporary exhibitions are also sometimes proposed.

- The Fon's palace

This is the the center of Nso cultural and social life. Visit the seat of the paramount ruler of the Nso kingdom, with its traditional courtyards and architectural structures, decorated with wood carvings and bamboo.

- The Cathedral

Constructed in the 50's, this imposing architectural structure, made of stones, dominates the whole town. You can have a walk around it, and even go inside and participate, when a mass is going on.

- The Mbve main market

Have a look and buy typical products (almost everything you can imagine) from the region, Cameroon, Nigeria and other parts of Africa, in this famous traditional African market.

- Walks through nature

Situated in the middle of beautiful and wild green landscapes, with many waterfalls and caves, Kumbo is a good point of departure for unforgettable hiking on the hills and mountains characteristics of the North-West region.

Horse riding

By meeting the Mbororos, a nomad people living around Kumbo, horse-riders could easily enjoy the surrounding nature on horse back.
